60/60... More counter space !

A front-loading slicer, the standard among standard slicers. This elegant, genuinely compact machine will fit into your counter space as easily as an appliance in a fitted kitchen unit.

FACE

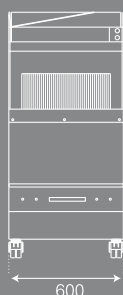

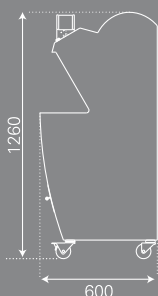

The Face and the Self can slice any type of bread. The slices are maintained together following slicing, thanks to the Jac Flaps.

The Face and the Self is a front loading slicer, a genuine front-loading slicer! The operator positions and retrieves the bread from the same position, by simply tilting his forearms.

The "M" versions of the Face and the Self slicer, which are fitted with the JAC lubrication system as standard (see page 5), can also be supplied with a "lubrication+" kit as an option, allowing them to meet the most demanding requirements.
